Indifference a Crime.

The Enterprise says:
A correspondent in another column calls the attention of our readers to the movement inaugurated by Senator Tabor, in Colorado, to arouse the laboring classes of the country so that they may feel some concern upon the silver question as one which deeply affects their interests. We agree with the writer that it is a good move, and should like to see our own bread-winners also bestirring themselves to action. There is no lack of information upon this momentous question. No man who has a stake in this country should shrink his plain duty, which is to study the question in all its bearings, economic, social and political. There is altogether too much apathy among the men whose means of livelihood are involved in the issue. It is nothing but downright laziness or inexcusable mental sluggishness which stands in the way and prompts the average man to declare he does not know anything about the subject, never reads any of the silver articles pro and con and does not care to. If silver be demonetized in the United States, the class of people who are too lazy to post themselves as to the why and the wherefore will be the first to feel the blow and the severest and the most enduring sufferers. Their present indifference to the danger which confronts them is a crime.

STATE AFFAIRS.

Annexation—Political—Financial—A Clear Headed Correspondent.

WADSWORTH, Nev. Nov. 19th, 1881.

ED. JOURNAL:—Prior to and during each campaign of late years it has been the policy of the many papers in the State to decry the condition of affairs and create a false impression as to our true status, financially and otherwise. Before the last campaign, retrenchment was the hobby, and through the indiscreet zeal of the advocates of that measure, the Eastern journals magnified what was said and said that Nevada was in the last agonies of despair and should be robbed of her Statehood. In the State now many of the papers are asserting that we are in a sad plight because $20,000 was recently borrowed from the School Fund to keep the State on a cash basis, 'till the revenue for the fiscal year is turned into the State Treasury. It betokens well, when a State is in a financial condition to borrow of itself. With very few exceptions, the older States are largely indebted and their bonds are held by foreign or local syndicates. All of Nevada's indebtedness is to the irredeemable School Fund. We pay interest for the support of that Fund, while most States pay a direct tax for the support of the schools. Is there anything alarming in the fact that we pay a reasonable interest on a fund that otherwise would be idle when that interest goes to educating the children of the State and when there is on hand more money appropriated for other uses, which cannot be diverted for want of authority of law, than is thus borrowed?

I learn Senator Stewart is the advocate of a scheme to enlarge our boundaries, thus take us out of the slough of despair. Would such a move lift the local indebtedness off of Storey, White Pine and other counties burdened with heavy local taxation which their former prodigality heaped upon them? Unless the State assumes the load these counties are carrying, if Utah, Idaho, Oregon, and all of California east of the Sierras were added to Nevada, no local relief would be afforded these unfortunate counties. If the territory of Nevada, which now covers about one hundred and twelve thousand square miles, were increased, that increase would add proportionately to the expense of the State government, and would involve the question of removing the Capital, and other complications, without corresponding gains. There can be only one advantage in annexation, and that is the probable aid it would give to the general government in breaking the back of Mormonism. Should a part of Northwestern Idaho be made a part of Nevada it would divide the Mormon strength politically. But with the aggressive policy that Congress has initiated, backed by the moral pressure there is against the institution advocating polygamy, the nation is able to cope with it, concentrated as it is.

The State never has had as healthy an outlook as it has to-day. The stock and agricultural interests have a sound footing. Mining is looking up. Favorable reports are being had from the various camps of the State. The output of bullion in Nevada will be greater in 1885 than it has been for a number of years past.

If our people will look through glasses, not colored by those who have political axes to grind, they can see a clear and promising sky for Nevada, which if left alone will be as her merits deserve a respected sovereign State. Within her borders there are almost unlimited resources which once utilized will make her, in revenue, the equal of many other States. What she wants most is legislation at home and in Congress that may point toward her legitimate development against the various discriminations now made against her. In other words, in all places Nevada wants a true Nevadan to represent her.

The Northern Pacific Railroad elected Mitchell Senator from Oregon.

Another Magnificent Stanford Gift.

The fact has already been made public that Senator and Mrs. Stanford intend to erect a museum building in Golden Gate Park, and to also donate objects of an appropriate character to form the nucleus of a great public museum. It has now been ascertained that the donation will include the Stanford art collections and objects collected by Leland Stanford, Jr., for his private museum. The collection of Leland Stanford, Jr., consisting largely of curiosities and antique objects, fill two rooms in the Stanford mansion on California street. It was begun when he was twelve years old, and added to whenever the opportunity offered during the remainder of his life. The Stanford art collection, which is intended for the museum, has been described as richer in the old masters than any other in America. It includes as well specimens of nearly every worthy school of painting since the days of medieval art, and works noticeably representative of schools, countries and peculiarities. After the return of Senator and Mrs. Stanford from their trip to Europe, in 1881, the catalogue of their oil and water-color paintings numbered 181, all of which had been selected with great taste and discretion, and many of them old, rare and exceedingly valuable. Their collection of paintings has been added to since then, but it was during the European trip referred to that the collection was most notably enriched. No correct estimate can be made of the money value of the proposed gift, but the art treasures alone in 1882 had been estimated to have cost over $250,000.

Unintentional Praise.

Nearly all the Bureau reports are now published. Considerable amusement has been created here and elsewhere among the initiated by observing the conduct of some of the Democratic newspapers in reference to these documents. As emanating from a Democratic Administration, they have praised them in the most enthusiastic terms as giving unmistakable evidence of a better order of things, greater economy, and efficiency, and all the other admirable qualities ornamenting the party platforms. But the fact is that the reports are only brought down to July, and are for the year ending then so that for the most part they are the record of a Republican Administration. The satisfaction of the Democratic editors would have probably been less complete if they had remembered this little circumstance.

The President and the Senate.

The National Republican says: "The President, in conversation with a Republican Senator on Tuesday, told the latter he would esteem it a great favor if Senators knowing anything objectionable or detrimental to the public interest about any person or persons appointed by him would apprise him of the facts. The President expects that a fight will be made on some of his appointments, but believes that a majority of the Republican Senators will oppose any attempt to defeat confirmation, except in cases where unimpeachable facts are presented, and if such cases exist the objection will be called to his attention before there is any organized opposition."

Hancock Revisits Gettysburg.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather General Hancock, attended by General Walker, of his staff, the historian of the Second Corps; Colonel Wilson, Major Miller, Colonel Batchelder, the Government historian of the battlefield; Colonel Nicholson, Recorder of the Grand Commandery of the Loyal Legion, and others visited the Gettysburg battlefield Thursday. General Hancock gave particular attention to the positions of the left center, where he commanded, identifying every point of interest.

The Oregon Legislature is now hunting around for somebody to sacrifice himself, and represent that State in the United States Senate.—[Ex.] They should adopt the Nevada plan and send to California for a candidate.—Times-Review.

S. L. Jones, of the Crown Point, returned from San Francisco yesterday morning.

SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN ASSEMBLING.

Democratic Contentment and Republican Discouragement—The Silver Question—The Gradual Change of Office-Holders—Secretary Manning's Industry—Incident at the White House—Etc.

(Virginia Chronicle.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—As the members of the Forty-ninth Congress assemble in the city, it is interesting to note upon the faces of the Republicans an expression of discouragement. They feel that the Democrats have come to reign for a long time. They have ceased talking about candidates for 1888. Before the elections there was so much said on the subject here that one might have thought that the country was on the eve of another Presidential election. You hear nothing more now about a war in the Senate. Republican Senators are now in a measure subdued, while the talk of Democratic Senators is conservative and loyal.

THE SILVER PROBLEM.

The forecast of the position to be taken by members of the new Congress on the silver question, recently published, is not regarded as likely to prove true after Congress has met and received the President's message and the report of Secretary Manning. The President and the Secretary are not likely to occupy different ground from that taken by Mr. Cleveland last Spring. It is thought he will appeal reasonably to both Houses of Congress to support his views and try them in practice.

CONSTANT CHANGES IN THE OFFICES.

Though you may not hear a great deal about it, constant changes in the offices have been going on here since the 4th of March. They go on gradually, but any one going into the Departments after an absence of nine months would find but few familiar faces at the desks of the higher officials. In the Treasury, for instance, both of the Assistant Secretaries are Democrats. The Solicitor of the Treasury is a Democrat, as is also the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the Treasurer, and the Register of the Treasury. A Democrat has succeeded the old Commissioner of Customs; and the new Director of the Mint is a Democrat. The First and Second Controllers are Democrats; all six of the Auditors are Democrats; a Democratic Appointment Clerk files away applications; a Democrat signs the report of the Bureau of Statistics, and there are many changes lower down the line. The new appointees have been good men, possessing qualifications that suited them for their duties.

SECRETARY MANNING'S INDUSTRY.

There are few men in the service of the Government who work harder than the head of the Treasury. And, as one of his subordinate officers said, "The worst of it is, he expects everybody else to work." The same officer continued: "Manning is a great big fellow, full of blood, and as strong as a horse. He can sit up all night at his desk and be as fresh as a daisy in the morning, but we can't stand it." Mr. Manning has no respect for old time methods, or official hours. One day he asked for a certain report to be made out. A chief of division told him he would begin the work next morning, as it was then 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The Secretary looked at him for a moment and calmly said, "I must have that report in the morning," and he got it. It is certain much more activity is displayed now than ever before in the discharge of business at the Treasury. The Secretary's energetic touch is felt in every branch of it.

WHITE HOUSE INCIDENTS.

The President is working at his first message to Congress, securely shielded from the distracting annoyance of place hunters. He finds time, however, to come down into the East Room at a certain hour, three times a week, and shake hands with several hundred callers at these public receptions. Guests are not all willing to pass Mr. Cleveland with the conventional "How do you do." Many of them are intent on exchanging a few words for memory's sake. At his last hand-shaking a young girl said to him, "I was a Prohibitionist, that is why I did not vote for you." "Well, I forgive you," said the President, with a smile. His last caller was an old lady, who said: "It is refreshing to see and shake the hand of a Democratic President; but," with emphasis, "you want a wife." The President said he knew it, and with her good advice ringing in her ears, went upstairs to work.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE DELEGATION.

—The San Francisco Post includes Senator Fair among the California delegation in its issue of Thursday; it says:

Senator Stanford will be unable to leave for Washington until after he has completed the arrangements for the new University. This will probably occupy him until after the holidays. Senator Fair desired to be in time for the opening of Congress, but he has business that will detain him here until the end of next month—certainly until after the 17th. Congressman Felton will go as soon as he recovers from his present illness. Mr. Morrow expects to start on the 24th instant, and Messrs. McKenna and Louttit on the 26th. Mr. Markham is already there. Congressman Henley will depart within a few days.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphate, or other injurious substances. E. G. Love, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. H. A. Mott, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HATES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country. No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any unduded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

BREVITIES

The Everett stock is being sold out at cost.

Pete French, the cattleman, was a west-bound passenger last night.

Senator Boyle, of Gold Hill, was a passenger for the Day last night.

Reno is fixed for the Winter; it now has a coffee house. Coffee and cake for 10 cents.

W. E. F. Deal, of Virginia, J. R. Johnson and J. H. Parker, of Carson, were passengers for the Day last night.

In order to have an extra fine dinner to-day, you want to go to J. Frazer's for the finest roast that ever went into an oven.

Don't forget that this is Sunday, the day you want to go to Henry Morris' Wine House barber shop for any kind of work in the tonsorial line.

The protracted rain and the difficulty of getting cattle to the San Francisco slaughter houses and the beef to market, have raised the price of beef to 8 3/4 cts.

The large quantities of groceries being daily unloaded at Hall & Barnett's shows that both the quality and price of his goods are satisfactory to his customers.

Now is the season of the year for annual assessment work on mining claims. But five weeks more remain in which to comply with the mining laws relating thereto.

Judge Harris, of the Carson Index, returned from the Bay yesterday morning. He stopped over in Reno until the afternoon train, which he boarded for Washoe.

James Clark, who went to Topeka, Kansas, to visit his aged father, who was seriously ill, writes that the old gentleman died on Monday, and that he will return home to Elko about Tuesday next.

A San Francisco dispatch says Sharon's bequests for Nevada are: Catholic Orphan Asylum at Virginia City, $5,000; the Orphans' Home at Carson, Nevada, $5,000; Bishop Whitaker, of Nevada, to be applied to such useful purposes as he deems best, $2,000; Bishop Manogue, of Virginia City, to be applied to Virginia City charities, $2,000.

Hunting Cattle Thieves.

It is stated that the Nevada, Idaho and Montana Cattle Growers' Association have appropriated $3,000 to pay detectives to scour the Snake River mountains for cattle thieves, and secure evidence that will lead to their conviction. The Associations are determined to stop cattle and horse stealing and see that no guilty man escapes.

Soda Works at Owens Lake.

Mr. Yerington's scheme for the extraction of the carbonate of soda from the water of Owens Lake by evaporation is said to have proved successful. The erection of extensive works is now in contemplation. The enterprise is under the superintendency of L. F. J. Wrinkle, the well-known civil engineer, who was the projector of the scheme.

A False Rumor Corrected.

An item appeared in the Carson Appeal on November 15th stating that Senator Fair, in a letter to a resident of the capital, had asserted that the Mint would be reopened January 1st. In a private letter to a friend in Virginia, dated at San Francisco, November 19th, the Senator pronounces the above item "utterly untrue."

Baptist Church.

Rev. B. F. Ratray pastor; Preaching in the morning at 11 o'clock. Five minutes talk to the children before the sermon. Sunday School, at 12 m. Subject of Sunday evening lecture at 7 o'clock: "Heavenly Recognition" or, "Shall We Know Each Other There." Everybody welcome. Seats free.

GRAIN WITHOUT IRRIGATION.

Formers of the Opinion that It Can Be Raised in Nevada.

The Silver State says an opinion prevails among many farmers that in wet seasons, such as we have been having along the Humboldt for the last four or five years, wheat and barley can be raised without irrigation. The experiment was tried on a small scale in Buena Vista Valley many years ago, and resulted in a fair crop. The cheap rates now given by the Southern Pacific Company on car-load lots of grain, places Nevada farmers along the railroad almost on an equal footing with California farmers, so far as getting their products to market is concerned. Liverpool regulates the price of wheat in Nevada as London does the price of bullion, and as it does not cost much more to get grain to tide water from the Humboldt Valley than it does from the Upper Sacramento, there is no reason why wheat and barley, if they can be raised without irrigation, should not be produced as extensively along the Humboldt as in San Joaquin Valley, and thousands of acres of our sagebrush plains converted into grain fields. In California lands which produce from ten to fifteen bushels of wheat per acre sell at from $20 to $40 per acre, while in the Humboldt Valley rich sagebrush lands can be purchased at $1 25 per acre, and the cost of preparing them for a crop would be comparatively small. To test the capability of our valley lands to produce grain without irrigation some of our farmers ought to select a suitable piece of land this Winter, sow it as early as possible in the Spring, and see if it will not produce as much grain to the acre as the sandy soil of many of the California valleys.

Plenty of Water.

The Enterprise says the Carson river is now booming and roaring like a young Mississippi. Only last Monday the mill ditches carried all the water from it, leaving its bed dry below the dams, but now the stream goes rolling and surging angrily and wastefully over the dams, yet the mills have all the water they need, running all their stamps to the fullest extent. It seems a pity that there could not be some way of damming or holding back the waste water of this river during the Winter season until next Summer or Fall, when the water power falls short of the requirements. The mills all along Gold and Six-mile Canyons also have an overplus of water to work with, and at the lower end of Gold Canyon the Chinese and white placer miners are engaged in ground sluicing while they have such a fine supply of water to do it with. It is seldom that we have such a splendid and permanent supply of water at this season of the year.

General Webster's Staff.

Brigadier-General Webster has appointed the following staff: R. S. Osburn Ass't Adj't. Gen.; A. A. Evans, Ordnance Officer; Geo. H. Fogg, Commissary; L. J. Flint, Quartermaster; Thos. K. Hymers, Paymaster; B. H. Lindsay, Judge Advocate; W. H. A. Pike, Engineer Officer; Joseph E. Eckley, Brigade Inspector; Wm. Bergman, Surgeon; Lem Allen, Aid de Camp, with rank of Captain; Wm. Webster, Jr., and Benno Barnett, Orderlies, with rank of Sergeant-Major. The first nine have the rank of Major.

Church Notices.

Episcopal Church—Rev. Wm. Lucas, rector; services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sunday School at 1 p. m.; evening service at seven.

Congregational Church—Rev. G. M. Spencer, pastor; preaching on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sabbath School directly after morning service; evening service at seven.

The Widows' Sale.

Mrs Mary Lake has sold her entire interest in the estate of M. O. Lake, deceased, to Mrs. Jane Lake for the sum of $15,000 and the fifteen feet of ground under lease by the Arcade hotel.

Ex-Senator Stewart is negotiating for the purchase of a residence in Carson City. He will establish himself in Nevada.—[Free Lance.

Until after the next election, probably.—Times-Review.

Large Salaries.

No wonder Tammany wanted the offices of County Clerk and Sheriff of New York. The amount of patronage which their incumbents dispense is enormous. A Democratic journal calls attention to the fact that hitherto the County Clerk has been paid by fees, and the appropriation for clerk hire for his office are between $35,000 and $40,000. Next year the Clerk will receive a salary of $15,000 and the estimates for clerical help have suddenly gone up to $90,000. The same paper adds: "A business firm would find no difficulty in doing the whole work for $25,000. The overplus of $80,000 is paid to keep a horde of papsuckers in ease or idleness, and to perpetuate the oligarchy when election day comes around." The Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution authorizing the County Clerk to employ such clerical force as he might need; and the result of its magnanimity is something like the old Tweed days over again.

Threatened Shut-Down at Butte.

The owners of quartz mills and reduction works at Butte City, Montana, announced November 13th their intention of shutting down January 1st, unless the Union Pacific Railroad Company consent to reduce the rate of freight on salt. The salt is obtained at Salt Lake. The distance to Ogden, the shipping point, is 440 miles and the rate $26 per ton. The mill men have long protested against this outrageous charge, but without avail. The compact includes the Alice, the Lexington, the Moulton and all the mills in the camp. The announcement has had a depressing effect, as it will throw at least 5,000 men out of employment.

The President Wants No Yacht.

The United States steamer Dispatch is ordered to go South immediately and to cruise in the neighborhood of the Isthmus and stay in Southern waters during the Winter. This vessel has been formerly used as the personal yacht of the President. Her restoration to the regular work of the navy is a part of the reform work of the Naval Department. The Tallapoosa is now completely repaired, and will be ordered to follow the Dispatch in about one month's time.

June 17, 1886, Queen Victoria will enter upon the fiftieth year of her reign. Committees are already being formed in the cities and large towns of the United Kingdom to decide upon the most appropriate manner to celebrate an event of such historical importance. With the exception of Edward III, who reigned fifty-six years, and George III, who reigned sixty years, the Queen has been longer on the throne than any English sovereign.

Senator Ransome, of North Carolina, "entertains a high regard for the President, and thinks that the South should be the last to complain of an administration that has so fully recognized the Southern States, not only in the Cabinet, but in every department of the public service abroad."
